

The background of the entire page is a grid of vintage televisions. The top television has the 'Offi' logo on its screen, which consists of the word 'Offi' in a black sans-serif font followed by two blue chevrons pointing to the right. The televisions are in various shades of brown, black, and grey, with some showing their control panels and dials.

European TV Drama
Funding Guide

update september 2017

We are happy to share with you the new edition of the European TV Drama Funding Guide.

Coproduction ventures are becoming more and more necessary to finance European TV series. All around Europe, public funds have developed specific programs to support such enterprises and generate more production activities in their territories.

While some schemes apply to Film and Television production, certain schemes are specifically designed for TV series. We have taken a quite extensive approach in our listings so that you won't miss a generic program, but we have limited our presentation to European countries.

Olfii is the largest database about public funding and production regulations for Film, Television, Short and New Media. Reviewing more than 900 different programs in 85 countries, Olfii covers all the different stages of production from development to post production. Olfii also scans all the regulations and coproduction treaties. Olfii is free and is used by more than 30K professionals.

The PDF version of this guide is directly linked to the extensive Olfii Database.

As funds keep changing their rules and developing new financing incentives we advise you to regularly consult the Olfii database, whether on our website or via the Olfii app available on iTunes store or Googleplay. Please make sure you sign in with Olfii.com in order to have access to all the information and tools.

We hope this Funding Guide will facilitate your search for funds and will help you to gain a better understanding of financial mechanisms related to international co-productions.
